

Karjaan lukio is a Finnish-language upper secondary school in Raasepori with about 140 students aged between 16 – 19. The subjects at our school are humanities, natural sciences, languages, visual arts, music and physical education.

The studies usually take three years. After that the students can go on to university level.

We co-operate with other upper secondary schools in the region as Raasepori conservatory, Dance Institute, Lärkkulla Institute and Karjaa secondary school.

We have international projects to Italy, Germany, South Africa, Switzerland (CERN) and local projects in natural sciences and entrepreneurial activity.
